

Network Support For Billing Customer Calls According To Tailored Billing Lists

Abstract of the Disclosure

Methods are disclosed for billing customer calls according to predefined 5 billing lists. The billing lists may be consulted during or after a call to determine if the customers initiating or receiving the call have authorized alternative billing treatment. The alternative billing treatment may comprise, for example, billing both call legs of a wireless call to a single party (e.g. the calling or called party) or charging monetary charges of a wireline call to the called party without invoking 10 operator services.